pune wine country

welcome to wine country.

In the middle of a 66-acre winery, Hotel Irada breathes new life into a storied manor—a grand estate with wine trails, forest rituals, and the creative spirit of a new India. Inspired by the vibrant colors of contemporary India, a top AD 100 firm has carefully updated the grand neoclassical structure, its timeless silhouette commanding the landscape. The hotel opens to expansive decks that spill out over the vineyards, perfect for long, lingering evenings and action-packed mornings on the irada racquet club. Inside, a midcentury modern aesthetic is augmented by curated pieces from Le Puces in Paris that sit alongside works sourced across India, creating a layered dialogue between international creativity and homegrown expression.

At Irada, every dining space has its own rhythm—bold, playful, and made to linger. From champagne cacio e pepe at Rosso to highballs at Lola, midday staples by the pool to private dinners in the forest, each meal is a mood—seasonal, soulful, and always a little unexpected.

Italian brasserie

ROSSO

Swirled pasta, clinking Negronis, and conversations that stretch late into the night, Rosso is Irada's ode to Italian indulgence, reimagined with western Indian flair. Our menu is where ripe tomatoes, champagne cacio e pepe, and slow-simmered sugos meet a flick of chili oil.

"Rosso is a stylish indoor spot, all gleaming marble and art-filled walls and vineyard views, where you can start with a citrusy fennel salad, move on to truffle tomato brie, a grilled salmon with a caper-Riesling sauce, and end with indulgent tiramisu."

IRADA POOL CLUB

All-day dining at Irada Pool Club means your favorite midday staples, served whenever the mood strikes. Set against a backdrop of manicured greenery and wild, vineyard-like edges — think tangled ivy and climbing roses — the space evokes an easy, wine-country elegance.

SUBKO
सबको ♦ सबکو

Irada x Subko is a meeting of terroirs—where vines and beans, wines and cacao, speak the same language of craft. A collaboration designed to awaken palate and place in equal measure. It's an invitation to linger a little longer, to taste the land in its purest form. A slow, thoughtful union made for mornings that stretch and evenings that glow.

pool bar

Lola

Tucked by the pool and made for golden hours, Lola is where things get a little louder and a lot more fun. Expect crisp highballs, fast pours, and music that gets better as the sun dips. No bar stools here—just sun-warmed skin, clinking glasses, and the occasional splash. Come thirsty.

Start with a walk through the vineyard—66 acres of forest-flanked vines—guided by our estate manager. Learn how the monsoon shapes our soil, how basalt rock affects the grape, and how time moves differently inside a barrel room.

From sunlit vine rows to the cool, arched cellar, the tour winds through fermentation halls, aging tanks, and ends in our Tasting Room, where the swirl, sniff, and sip comes with stories. Expect pours from our own small-batch collection—plus bottles we love from across the world, new-world rebels and old-world classics alike.

“The wine programme under the stewardship of Australian estate manager Craig Wedge guides guests and day visitors through vineyards, barrel rooms steeped in oak, and intimate tastings that span rare vintages from Sassicaia to Pinot Blanc.”

The IRADA Racquet Club

Tucked between the vines and the helipad's open horizon, the Irada Racquet Club brings the spirit of play to wine country. Our rust padel court—finished with Irada's iconic red framing—stands like a sculpture in the landscape. Across from it, the natural-green pickleball court blends into the estate as if it grew there. Courts designed for rhythm and rivalry, but set in a place that reminds you to slow down between points.

“Result is a retreat that embodies the spirit of a new India — local at heart, global in perspective. This is not a place you simply check into — it's one you dive into. The hum of activity is everywhere: the Irada Racquet Club hosts spirited matches of padel, pickleball, and..”
